

PORTLAND GOLF CLUB

NEWSLETTER 10th JUNE 2010

Welcome to this week's newsletter. The winter has arrived and the hardiness of golfers will be tested over the next couple of months. If you are venturing out for a game, PREPERATION is the key. Ensure that you have an umbrella, bag cover, wet weather gear, a spare dry towel and a spare glove. It is paramount that you keep your grips and hands dry to ensure control of the club. It mightn't hurt either, to keep a beanie in one of your pockets just in case the breeze gets up. When playing in the wind and rain, try to remain as patient as possible and swing a little within yourself.
Tip – In the breeze, swing with ease.

3 MINUTES WITH THE PRO

THIS WEEK I SPENT 3 MINUTES WITH CLUB PRESIDENT PHIL KELLY.

BC: Hi Phil, can you tell me how the club is going?

PK: At this point in time golf participation and activities are very strong and membership is on the increase. We do have some financial issues but with the Finance Committee we have at the moment and the strategies we are developing I can definitely see the club turning around.

BC: What areas do you think as a club, we can improve on?

PK: Member participation and involvement in areas other than golf. With this improvement we can become a more socially active club.

BC: How is your golf going?

PK: It's steady. My aim is to have a single figure handicap and maintain it.
* Phil's handicap went out to 9 yesterday.

BC: Recently you traveled to the US and had the opportunity to watch the Masters at Augusta. How was that experience?

PK: Sensational, it was awesome. To be able to witness golfing abilities of the worlds best golfers virtually shoulder to shoulder was awesome, and to experience a golf course in such pristine condition, unreal! I did walk away with an impression that Augusta National Golf Course is close to a Mafia organization.

BC: How are your beloved Carlton Blues going? Who will win the flag?

PK: They are rock solid and are playing to their members expectations. I think Geelong will win the flag. Blues definitely a top 4.

BC: Mystery Question?

PK: Yes.

Thanks for your time Phil.
